CITY COUNCIL PRIORITIES

Although this action is not specifically listed, this action will contribute toward one of the City Council's priorities, Economic Development.

DISCUSSION

The City of Merced adopted the Regional Transportation Impact Fee (RTIF) in May 2005 per Ordinance #2194 and amended the RTIF in June 2008 per Ordinance #2310. Since August 2005, the City has collected the fee on all new development projects (residential, commercial, and industrial) in the City in order to raise additional revenues to pay for regional transportation improvements. See the Fact Sheet at Attachment 1 and Chapter 17.64 of the Merced Municipal Code at Attachment 2 for additional information regarding the RTIF.

In August 2005, the County of Merced and the Cities of Atwater, Dos Palos, Gustine, Los Banos, and Merced began collecting the RTIF. In November 2014, the City of Livingston began collecting the RTIF.

In January 2012, the City of Dos Palos suspended collecting the RTIF. In January 2012, the City of Los Banos suspended the collection of the RTIF for non-residential projects and in August 2014, suspended the collection of the RTIF on all projects. Other cities, although still collecting the RTIF on selected projects, have exempted major commercial projects from paying the fee based on a variety of stated reasons.

Given the inconsistent application of the fees to development projects throughout the County as demonstrated above, the City of Merced has been at a competitive disadvantage to competing jurisdictions within the County and has lost projects based on the City of Merced continuing to charge the RTIF, despite having lowered the City's Public Facilities Impact Fees by over 55 percent in 2012.

The City of Merced will begin a 5-year update of the City's Public Facilities Impact Fee program in 2017. This process will include an analysis of the City's development impact fees for transportation, traffic signals, police, fire, and parks and bikeways, including regional transportation projects within the City's Sphere of Influence. As part of that study, the City will make a determination on whether the City should continue being part of the RTIF program.

Therefore, City staff is recommending that the City Council adopt an ordinance amending Chapter 17.64 (Regional Transportation Impact Fee) to repeal Section 17.64.150 (Repeal) and replace with "Notwithstanding any language in this Chapter 17.64 to the contrary, the City hereby suspends collection of the Regional Transportation Impact Fees pursuant to Chapter 17.64 for all new development projects in the City of Merced until June 20, 2018." See Attachment 3 for the proposed Ordinance.

IMPACT ON CITY RESOURCES

The Regional Transportation Impact Fees that were collected by the City were forwarded to the Merced County Association of Governments (MCAG), so there will be no impacts on City resources.
